

Dear Higher Education Partners,

We are delighted to announce the call for proposals for the upcoming Texas A&M University System Military-Affiliated Symposium, to be held on October 13-14, 2025, in Fort Worth, Texas. This symposium serves as a platform for sharing best practices, innovative approaches, and collaborative strategies aimed at advancing the success of military-affiliated students in higher education.

Under the theme of “From Policy to Practice: Advancing Military-Affiliated Student Success,” the symposium will feature four distinct tracks, each focusing on key aspects of supporting and empowering military-affiliated students:

2. Building Bridges: Community, Leadership, and Fundraising for Military-Affiliated Student Success
3. Maximizing Military Benefits: Navigating Educational Certification and Support Systems
4. Policy and Progress: Shaping the Future of Veteran Education

We invite you to submit proposals for presentations, workshops, panel discussions, and other interactive sessions aligned with one or more of these tracks. Your contributions will enrich the symposium experience and advance the support of military-affiliated students in higher education.
